Staff

Staff, in a ratio of one counselor for every three campers, supervise and lead the campers through the program. The staff adapt activities so all campers can participate and assist those campers who need help with personal care needs.

Certified lifeguards supervise swimming and boating.

Two registered nurses staff the infirmary and are available at all times.

Food service staff prepare balanced, nutritious meals planned by a dietitian. Staff work with parents to try to accommodate special dietary needs of campers.

Facilities

Camp Burnt Gin is located in Sumter County, near Wedgefield SC. The Dining Hall, Arts and Crafts building, Nature Hut and Infirmary overlook a scenic lake. The Rec Hall, located in the center of Camp, offers shelter on rainy days and is home to the Camp's Fine Arts program and Library.

Ten cabins with bathroom facilities house the campers and counselors. The swimming pool, with a ramp for easy entry, is everyone's favorite place. Sidewalks throughout camp makes travel between activities easy for our campers and staff. The spacious grounds provide numerous places for outdoor adventures and the chance to connect with nature.

Campers

Camp Burnt Gin is for children, teens and young adults, ages 7-25, who have special healthcare needs. Acceptance is determined on an individual basis. Many factors are considered including the camper's physical disability, personal and medical needs, and whether or not the child is able to participate in another camping program.

How to Apply

Camper and staff applications are available through our website. All campers must provide a physical exam and immunization record as part of their application. Staff applicants must provide references and pass a criminal background check.

Program

The days at camp are filled with a variety of activities. Swimming, nature activities, crafts, drama, dance, sports and games are offered and adapted so all campers can participate. Paddleboats, canoeing, and fishing make good use of our lake.

The evening program varies each night and includes a talent show, dance, campfire and awards ceremony.

CBG 'n Me

CBG 'n Me is Camp Burnt Gin's virtual program. Events are offered quarterly and provide an opportunity for socialization and engagement with camp friends throughout the year.
